The Reads tab

Taken off the admin page November 11, 2026 · admin note

These were the reads on the admin Reads tab. When a member tapped "Why the recent trend?" on a player's bet, the server handed this list to Gemini as the things to look for, and Gemini named one only when the facts showed it. The server also kept only the measured hits whose id was on this list. Nobody ever edited the list, so it is the original set.

The reads, 31

- Opposing corner out (cb). A corner or safety on the other team is out. A receiver has a better chance at yards and a score.
- Quarterback out (qb). The starting quarterback is out. The passing game has fewer clean chances.
- Other receiver out (wr). Another receiver on his team is out. The one still playing can see more targets.
- Lead back out (rb). The lead back is out. The next back can see more carries.
- Targets up (up). His targets in the last few games are higher than the games before.
- Targets down (down). His targets have fallen off.
- Cleared it lately (hot). He has cleared this number lately, and the FanDuel price is short of that count.
- Against this team (foe). He has cleared this number against this team.
- At home (home). He clears this number at home, and the road games are different.
- On the road (road). He clears this number on the road, and the home games are different.
- Off a bye (bye). He is coming off a bye.
- Short week (short). This is a short week, and his short weeks play out differently.
- More rest (rest). He has had more rest than the other team.
- First game back (back). This is his first game back from a layoff.
- Early East start (early). A West Coast team is playing an early East Coast game.
- Two time zones (zones). This trip crosses two time zones.
- High-scoring script (script). His team's side of the number says a lot of points.
- They'll be throwing (throw). His team is a big underdog, so the script leans pass.
- They'll be running (run). His team is a big favorite, so the script leans run.
- The number didn't move (move). The spread or the total moved, and this player's number stayed.
- The other team is cold (cold). The other team has won few of its last games.
- Prime time (prime). The kickoff is 7:00 PM ET or later.
- Rivalry (rival). These two teams are rivals.
- After a rivalry (after). This is the game after a rivalry.
- A rivalry is next (next). A rivalry is the next game.
- Wind (wind). Wind is 20 mph or more and the game is outside.
- Rain (rain). Rain is in the forecast and the game is outside.
- Cold (air). It is cold, and this bet is a pass or a catch.
- Indoors (dome). The game is indoors.
- Denver (denver). This game is in the altitude.
- Overseas (abroad). This game is outside the usual US building.

Not on the desk yet

The tab also listed reads the desk had no feed for. The longer list is in attributes.pdf.

- The trip, in miles. Miles since the last game.
- Baseball specifics. Park factor as its own number. Whether the pitcher throws left or right. An umpire's strikeout tendency.
- Who is assigned. Which corner travels with this receiver. A goalie's save percentage. A referee's foul rate.
- Where the prop opened. The first number on this prop.

This note does not send a bet. A member still types the line into their own account.
