

Posts to start with

These are drafts. Change the record numbers before posting so they match the Wins tab that day. Every post is 21+. The desk does not send bets.

Profile bio

Parlay of the Day. FanDuel prices, a few parlays, and the graded record. 21+. The desk does not place the bet.

Link post

Parlay of the Day is up. It shows FanDuel parlays for today, lets you build one from the leagues and props you pick, and grades the legs from the box score. Wins and losses both stay on the board. 21+. parlayoftheday.com

What the board is

Today's Best Bet, Bet of the Week, and the strategy cards are FanDuel prices, not a bet slip we send. A same-game parlay can price differently on FanDuel's own button. If you want a ticket, you type it into your account. 21+.

Build and swipe

Two ways to look through the board: build a parlay by league, prop, and leg count, or swipe the suggestions. Right is a like. Left is a pass. Neither one places a bet.

The record

We keep every ticket. A green check is a won leg. A red X is a miss. A gold circle is still open. The Wins tab is the hit rate on decided tickets, losses included. 21+.

Membership

A free membership lets you rate a ticket from 1 to 5 stars and save a pick. The desk remembers those on your membership. Payments are not on yet. 21+. parlayoftheday.com

Story frame

1. Logo and the name Parlay of the Day.
2. One card with the game time and the legs.
3. The same card later with a check or an X.
4. Line: the record stays up, including losses. 21+. The desk does not send the bet.
